Smallpox Patient Comes to Town from Pest House to Get a Meal.

Funeral of Young Augustus Bybee-Weber County Irrigators-

Wedding Bells.

That the method employed in cutting down the city expenses at the pest house is not a very commendable one may be deduced from Saturday afternoon's experience at that place. The man employed at the pest house is not alone nurse but is also guard and cook, and other responsibilities rest upon his shoulders. Formerly the nurse had nothing to do but care for the patients, but now that his labors are greatly increased, he cannot watch the patients as they should be cared for, Saturday one of the patients came to the conclusion that he would take a walk, and not feeling that he was re-ceiving sufficient food he came to Ogden, and got a square meal. The sani-tary inspector was notified of the pa-tient's escape and after spending several hours searching for him learned that he had returned to the detention pital himself. That the actions of the patient were very improper is true, but the public is of the opinion that there should be sufficient help at the pest house, so that the patients can be properly cared for and not leave the pest house until properly released. FUNERAL OF AUGUSTUS BYBEE.

The funeral services over the remains of Augustus Bybee, the young man who was murdered by hoboes a few days ago near Pocatello, Idaho, were held yesterday afternoon at the Hooper meeting house. They were largely attended by sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. A number of speakers offered words of comfort and consolation to the relatives of the deceased and eulogized his many acts of kindness and noble character. A large content of the con esterday afternoon at the Hooper uneral cortege followed the remains to the Hooper cemetery where they were laid to rest. The large attendance evihigh esteem in which the eceased was held in the community.

WEBER COUNTY IRRIGATORS. A meeting of the irrigators of Weber county was held Saturday afternoon in the courthouse. Edwin Dix was chairman of the meeting and County chairman of the meeting that Atty. George Halverson was secretary. The principal purpose of the meeting was to arrange for the state irrigators' convention to be held in Salt Lake, April 2. Three motions were prepared by Judge Rolapp, and passed by the assemblage, naming three committees. The first committee has the duty of lecting all laws from t erning or in any way affecting water right, also to prepare a bill to be sub-mitted to the state convention. The section committee is to ascertain what water rights have been decreed to this county by the courts, and the conditions of the same. The third committee is to determine the duties and nerigation districts in the county. These committees are to have the work allotted to them completed and ready to report on at another meeting the county frrigators to be held at the same place March 29.

away disappointed. The musicale opened with two lyrics, "The Wanderer" and "Spring's Awakening," by Grieg, played upon the piano by Prof. J. A. Anderson in a manner such as is seldom heard locally. As an exhibition of classical skill it was immense. Prof. Lund sang "Erl King," baritone solo, with marked effect, and was vociferously encored. Prof. Albert Miller sent the audience into raptures by his wonderful manipulation of the violin. His rendition of "My Old Ken tucky Home" and the "Blue Bells of Scotland" created particular delight. But the program did not consist entire-ly of music. Miss Miriam Nelkie made a profound impression in her dramatic and popular readings. In her line, it is freely admitted that she stands higher thany any other elecutionist that ever gave pleasure to an audience here.

Miss Emily Grimsdell of Salt Lake sang a number of selections in splendid style. All were encored repeatedly. It is long since Manti had such a trea as was experienced last night, and the visiting artists are given unbounded

No More Long Haired Indians -Must Become Like White Men.

Casper, Wyo., March 15.-Capt. H. G. Nickerson, agent of the Wind River Indian reservation, accompanied by his daughter and a delegation of Arapahoe and Shoshone Indians from the reserva-tion, returned yesterday from Washington, where they had been to consult with officials regarding the recent or-der requiring the redmen to cut their hair and causing them to adopt the mode of living and acting more like a white man than has been their custom. The Indians objected to the radical change and the order was modified to some extent when the braves filed their protest. This modification was that old men need not clip their locks but that all young men and boys must be shorn of their tresses, and they will be required to dress in civilian clothing. Captain Nickerson said this was satisfactory with the old men and he is satisfied the young men will not object. It will be only a few years, he says, until long-haired Indians are as scarce
